Global Studies

The MA degree in Global Studies (GS) is a one-year Masters program. It is an interdisciplinary program designed to provide the fundamentals of contemporary international issues as well as detailed knowledge on particular world regions or countries. The MA degree in Global Studies provides wide flexibility in crafting an individual interdisciplinary program. Students tailor the content of their programs within a defined framework to suit their interests. Specific course work is chosen in consultation with a faculty adviser.

1. Students must COMPLETE a minimum of 24 units, at least twelve of which must be graduate-level course work (course numbered 200-299). Two-thirds of all course work must be letter-graded. Thus no more than a third of all units may be taken on an S/U or P/NP grading basis.

2. Students are required to complete two Global Studies prosemarians, one in the fall, the other in the spring. They must also enroll in at least two social science and two area studies courses (in the same area).

3. Capstone – All students must undergo a comprehensive examination, with both written and oral components. A committee consisting of three faculty members will direct the examination for all of the students in any given cohort, which will require synthesis of material from student coursework.

Global Studies Courses

GLOBAL 210 MA Seminar for Global Studies
4 Units
Terms offered: Spring 2020, Fall 2019, Spring 2019
This reading seminar, required of all MA students in Global Studies, will approach a particular topic in global studies each year. Covering a variety of themes, students will engage with the literature of the field, and begin to study the ways in which particular problems have been approached from a variety of disciplinary perspectives in the social sciences.

Rules & Requirements
Repeat rules: Course may be repeated for credit when topic changes.

GLOBAL 375 Professional Training: Teaching in Global Studies
2 Units
Terms offered: Fall 2019, Fall 2018, Fall 2017
This course is intended to prepare Global Studies MA students to be instructors in interdisciplinary/multi-departmental courses. It will serve as a forum to discuss problems and create innovative solutions to these problems. Focusing on course construction and operation, specialists from various disciplines will discuss strategies for moving outside of their areas of specialization and into broader areas of Global Studies. Graduate students will be provided training in building their own interdisciplinary courses from the ground up. Organizing syllabi, preparing lectures, devising written assignments, leading discussion sections, constructing evaluative mechanisms and grading them, will all be covered over the course of the semester.

Rules & Requirements
Prerequisites: Appointment as a graduate student instructor for one of the Global Studies or Political Economy undergraduate courses
Credit Restrictions: Required for graduate student instructors teaching in the Global Studies or Political Economy programs for the first time.
Repeat rules: Course may be repeated for credit up to a total of 8 units.

Fall and/or spring: 15 weeks - 2 hours of lecture per week

Subject/Course Level: Global Studies/Professional course for teachers or prospective teachers
Grading: Offered for satisfactory/unsatisfactory grade only.
