Russian Language

Minor

The Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures offers a minor in Russian Language. There is no major in Russian Language. Students who wish to major in Russian language, literature, or culture should choose the appropriate major track offered by the Slavic Languages and Literatures major (http://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/degree-programs/slavic-languages-literatures/).

Heritage Speakers of Russian

Heritage speakers include those who grew up in Russian speaking families but are without a standard Russian language educational background. Heritage speakers of Russian are not eligible for this minor. However, heritage speakers may choose any of the department’s other minors (see links below).

Declaring the Minor

Students considering a minor track involving language requirements must see the undergraduate student services adviser early on to have their minor study list plan reviewed and approved. Final approval for a minor rests with the major adviser. The paperwork for the minor, called an L&S Confirmation of Minor form, is completed with the undergraduate student services adviser no later than the semester before the student’s Expected Graduation Term (EGT).

Other Minors offered by the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures

Armenian Studies (http://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/degree-programs/armenian-studies/) (Minor only)
East European/Eurasian Languages and/or Cultures (http://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/degree-programs/czech-polish-bosnian-croatian-serbian-language-literature/) (Minor only)
Russian Culture (http://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/degree-programs/russian-language-literature-culture/) (Minor only)
Russian Literature (http://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/degree-programs/russian-literature/) (Minor only)
Slavic Languages and Literatures (http://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/degree-programs/slavic-languages-literatures/) (Major only)

Students who have a strong interest in an area of study outside their major often decide to complete a minor program. These programs have set requirements and are noted officially on the transcript in the memoranda section, but they are not noted on diplomas.

General Guidelines

1. All minors must be declared no later than one semester before a student’s Expected Graduation Term (EGT). If the semester before EGT is fall or spring, the deadline is the last day of RRR week. If the semester before EGT is summer, the deadline is the final Friday of Summer Sessions. To declare a minor, contact the department advisor for information on requirements, and the declaration process.
2. All courses taken to fulfill the minor requirements below must be taken for graded credit.
3. A minimum of three of the upper division courses taken to fulfill the minor requirements must be completed at UC Berkeley.
4. A minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 is required for courses used to fulfill the minor requirements.
5. Courses used to fulfill the minor requirements may be applied toward the Seven-Course Breadth requirement, for Letters & Science students.
6. No more than one upper division course may be used to simultaneously fulfill requirements for a student’s major and minor programs.
7. All minor requirements must be completed prior to the last day of finals during the semester in which the student plans to graduate. Students who cannot finish all courses required for the minor by that time should see a College of Letters & Science adviser.
8. All minor requirements must be completed within the unit ceiling. (For further information regarding the unit ceiling, please see the College Requirements tab.)

SLAVIC 49AC Children’s Literature in the Context of American Cultures 3 Units
Terms offered: Spring 2023, Spring 2022, Fall 2020
Books written for children emerge from specific and complicated social and historical contexts, as do the children (and adults) who read these books. In recent years, the world of children’s books has been rocked by productive debates about the kinds of stories told and the identities of the voices telling those stories. In this class, we will read a wide assortment of books written (both long ago and very recently) for children, with particular attention paid to books addressing the experiences of Native, Latinx and African American children in the United States. We will also read scholarly, critical, and theoretical articles as we engage with our texts. Assessment will be based on class participation, written papers, and exams.

SLAVIC C134N Russia and Asia 4 Units
Terms offered: Spring 2023, Spring 2020
This course offers a cultural history of encounters between Russia and Asia in literature, film and visual art. The lenses of Orientalism, Eurasianism and Internationalism will be used to analyze Russian interactions with three spaces: the Caucasus, Central Asia, and East Asia. We will discuss works by classic Russian writers and artists (including Tolstoy, Blok and Platonov) that address the question of Russia’s engagement with Asia and consider Russia’s ambiguous spatial identity between Europe and Asia. We will also examine responses to Russian culture and the Russian/Soviet state in the literature and culture of China (Lu Xun, Xiao Hong), Japan (Kurosawa), Central Asia (Altmatov) and the Caucasus (Sadulaev). All readings in English.
