South and Southeast Asian Studies

The Department of South and Southeast Asian Studies offers undergraduate students an opportunity to focus on the histories, religions, cultures, and textual traditions of a region encompassing a third of the world’s population. Students can complete either a major or minor program. We provide training in 14 languages and specialize in various areas, including literature, history, and religious studies from classical to modern times. Our faculty conducts research across South and Southeast Asia, including India, Pakistan, Tibet, Nepal, Sri Lanka, Burma, Cambodia, Indonesia, Vietnam, and the Philippines.

In addition to the University, campus, and college requirements listed on the College Requirements tab, students must fulfill the requirements specific to their major program.

General Guidelines

1. A maximum of one course may be taken P/NP.
2. A maximum of two courses from other departments may be counted toward the major.
3. To fulfill the major requirements, a minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 must be maintained in upper and lower-division courses.
4. For double majors, no more than two upper-division courses may be used in common to fulfill requirements in both majors.

Please see the College Requirements tab for information regarding residency and unit requirements.

South and Southeast Asian Studies Major

The South and Southeast Asian Studies major is a flexible, interdisciplinary program offering opportunities for both the wide-ranging and comparative study of South and Southeast Asian cultures. The mission of the Department of South and Southeast Asian Studies is to train students in the study of the cultures and civilizations of South and Southeast Asia. Our department teaches the following 14 languages:

- Bengali
- Burmese
- Filipino
- Hindi
- Indonesian
- Khmer
- Malaysian
- Punjabi
- Sanskrit
- Tamil
- Telugu
- Thai
- Urdu
- Vietnamese

Declaring the Major

Students are advised to begin preparation for the major as soon as possible while completing university, college, and department requirements. For the most up-to-date information, students can view the department’s South & Southeast Asian Studies Website (https://sseas.berkeley.edu/programs/undergraduate/major/).

Students interested in majoring in the program should schedule an appointment with the undergraduate adviser (https://calendly.com/cassandra-dunn-ug-advisor/) regarding major requirements, transfer credits, and other academic concerns.

Honors Program

Criteria:

• A minimum GPA of 3.5 in courses taken to meet major requirements.
• An overall GPA of 3.0 at the university.

Program Structure and Requirements:

• Qualified seniors may apply for admission to the honors program.
• Accepted students will enroll in an SSEAS Independent Study (research) and an SSEAS H195 honors course (writing) over two consecutive semesters.
• Participants must complete an honors thesis submitted by the 13th week of the semester in which they expect to graduate.

Guidance and Assessment:

• During the program, students will undertake independent advanced study under the guidance of an assigned honors thesis adviser.
• A faculty committee will evaluate the completed thesis and the student’s overall performance within the department to determine the level of honors awarded: honors, high honors, or highest honors.

Graduation Criteria:

• To be eligible for honors, students must also achieve a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.3 in all undergraduate coursework at the university by graduation. Failure to meet this criterion will result in the non-issuance of honors recognition.

Organizing an Honors Thesis Project

To initiate an Honors Thesis Project in the Department of South and Southeast Asian Studies (SSEAS), a student should follow these steps:

1. Choose a Supervisor:

   • The student must approach and secure a faculty member from the SSEAS department to serve as the thesis supervisor. The faculty member should have expertise in the area of study the student wishes to explore.
2. Project Development:

• Together, the student and the faculty supervisor will determine the topic, scope, and a detailed plan for research and writing of the thesis. This collaborative planning ensures the project is feasible and aligns with academic standards and goals.

3. Forming the Thesis Committee:

• In consultation with the faculty supervisor, the student will identify and invite two additional faculty members to join the thesis committee. This should be completed by the beginning of the student’s final semester before graduation.

• The committee members provide additional perspectives and expertise, contributing to a robust review and guidance process.

4. Registration and Support:

• The student should consult with the Undergraduate Advisor to discuss the process for enrolling in the necessary thesis courses and to receive advice on getting started with the thesis project.

These steps are designed to ensure that the student is well-prepared and supported throughout the process of completing the honors thesis, leading to a meaningful and academically rigorous culmination of their studies in the SEASS department.

Major Requirements

Prerequisites

• Language—One semester of SSEAS language study (with a letter grade of C or higher) at UC Berkeley.

• Gateway - Completion of one Gateway Course with a letter grade of 2.0/C.

Language

A minimum of two semesters and six units in any language the department offers. The precise number of total units varies according to the language and the language course level in which the student enrolls.

Gateway Courses

Students must take at least two of the following:

• South Asia 100A (Ancient South Asia)
• South Asia 100B (Medieval-Modern South Asia)
• Southeast Asia 101A (Mainland Southeast Asia)
• Southeast Asia 101B (Insular Southeast Asia)

*Students can take any combination of these courses and in any order.

Upper Division Electives

Four upper-division courses offered by the department are required to complete the major. Upper-division courses are numbered 100 - 194. Courses numbered 195, 198, and 199 cannot meet major requirements.

Allowances

• Only one summer course from the department will count toward the required number of upper-division courses.

• If you wish to include an upper-division course related to the major from outside the department, it is important to note that only one such course can be accepted to meet major requirements. This course must be approved by the department. To initiate the request for acceptance, please submit the institution's details, course, and syllabus to the Undergraduate Major Advisor [link].

General Guidelines

1. All minors must be declared prior to the first day of classes of the student's Expected Graduation Term (EGT). If the student's EGT is a summer term, the deadline to declare a minor is prior to the first day of classes of Summer Session A. To declare a minor, contact the department advisor for information on requirements, and the declaration process.
2. All upper-division courses must be taken for a letter grade.

3. A minimum of three of the upper-division courses taken to fulfill the minor requirements must be completed at UC Berkeley.

4. A minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 is required in the upper-division courses to fulfill the minor requirements.

5. Courses used to fulfill the minor requirements may be applied toward the Seven-Course Breadth requirement, for Letters & Science students.

6. No more than one upper-division course may be used to simultaneously fulfill requirements for a student’s major and minor programs.

7. All minor requirements must be completed prior to the last day of finals during the semester in which the student plans to graduate. If students cannot finish all courses required for the minor by that time, they should see a College of Letters & Science adviser.

8. All minor requirements must be completed within the unit ceiling. (For further information regarding the unit ceiling, please see the College Requirements tab.)

Minor in South & Southeast Asian Studies

The Minor in South and Southeast Asian Studies offers students a comprehensive introduction to the region’s culture and traditions. It is designed to complement majors in the humanities and social sciences, providing depth to these fields of study. Additionally, it is an excellent supplement for science, math, or engineering students, broadening their academic experience with humanities and cultural studies training.

Requirements

One course (letter-graded) selected from among the following gateway courses: South Asia 100A (Ancient South Asia), South Asia 100B (Medieval-Modern South Asia), Southeast Asia 101A (Mainland Southeast Asia), or Southeast Asia 101B (Insular Southeast Asia).

Four additional letter-graded courses, with a minimum 2.0 GPA. All courses with a 100 or higher designation count as upper-division.

Note that these can include:

- one course with South and/or Southeast Asia content from outside the department
- two upper-division South and/or Southeast Asia language courses
- Courses offered by other departments cross-listed with SSEAS count as SSEAS department courses for the minor.

How to Declare the Minor

- Students can sign up for the SSEAS minor online (https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSeHH84Tunkyo7DVkG6TJuFrF1ruGLvW4QW9RX7_qzcaDkREfMw/viewform/?usp=sf_link). If you have questions about the minor or want to talk about it, please make an appointment with the undergraduate advisor, Cassandra Dunn (https://calendly.com/cassandra-dunn-ug-advisor/).

Undergraduate students must fulfill the following requirements in addition to those required by their major program.

For a detailed list of L&S requirements, please see Overview tab to the right in this guide or visit the L&S Degree Requirements (https://lsadvising.berkeley.edu/degree-requirements/) webpage. For College advising appointments, please visit the L&S Advising (https://lsadvising.berkeley.edu/home/) Pages.

University of California Requirements

Entry Level Writing
(https://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/colleges-schools/letters-science/entry-level-writing-requirement/)
All students who will enter the University of California as freshmen must demonstrate their command of the English language by fulfilling the Entry Level Writing requirement. Fulfillment of this requirement is also a prerequisite to enrollment in all reading and composition courses at UC Berkeley and must be taken for a letter grade.

American History and American Institutions
(https://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/colleges-schools/letters-science/american-history-institutions-requirement/)
The American History and American Institutions requirements are based on the principle that all U.S. residents who have graduated from an American university should have an understanding of the history and governmental institutions of the United States.

Berkeley Campus Requirement

American Cultures
(https://americancultures.berkeley.edu/)
All undergraduate students at Cal need to take and pass this campus requirement course in order to graduate. The requirement offers an exciting intellectual environment centered on the study of race, ethnicity and culture of the United States. AC courses are plentiful and offer students opportunities to be part of research-led, highly accomplished teaching environments, grappling with the complexity of American Culture.
College of Letters & Science Essential Skills Requirements

Quantitative Reasoning (http://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/colleges-schools/letters-science/quantitative-reasoning requirement/)
The Quantitative Reasoning requirement is designed to ensure that students graduate with basic understanding and competency in math, statistics, or computer/data science. The requirement may be satisfied by exam or by taking an approved course taken for a letter grade.

Foreign Language (http://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/colleges-schools/letters-science/foreign-language-requirement/)The Foreign Language requirement may be satisfied by demonstrating proficiency in reading comprehension, writing, and conversation in a foreign language equivalent to the second semester college level, either by passing an exam or by completing approved course work taken for a letter grade.

Reading and Composition (http://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/colleges-schools/letters-science/reading-composition-requirement/)In order to provide a solid foundation in reading, writing, and critical thinking the College of Letters and Science requires two semesters of lower division work in composition in sequence. Students must complete parts A & B reading and composition courses in sequential order by the end of their fourth semester for a letter grade.

College of Letters & Science 7 Course Breadth Requirements

Breadth Requirements (http://guide.berkeley.edu/undergraduate/colleges-schools/letters-science/#breadthrequirementstext)The undergraduate breadth requirements provide Berkeley students with a rich and varied educational experience outside of their major program. As the foundation of a liberal arts education, breadth courses give students a view into the intellectual life of the University while introducing them to a multitude of perspectives and approaches to research and scholarship. Engaging students in new disciplines and with peers from other majors, the breadth experience strengthens interdisciplinary connections and context that prepares Berkeley graduates to understand and solve the complex issues of their day.

Unit Requirements

• 120 total units
• Of the 120 units, 36 must be upper division units
• Of the 36 upper division units, 6 must be taken in courses offered outside your major department

Residence Requirements

For units to be considered in "residence," you must be registered in courses on the Berkeley campus as a student in the College of Letters & Science. Most students automatically fulfill the residence requirement by attending classes at Cal for four years, or two years for transfer students. In general, there is no need to be concerned about this requirement, unless you graduate early, go abroad for a semester or year, or want to take courses at another institution or through UC Extension during your senior year. In these cases, you should make an appointment to meet an L&S College adviser to determine how you can meet the Senior Residence Requirement.

Note: Courses taken through UC Extension do not count toward residence.

Senior Residence Requirement

After you become a senior (with 90 semester units earned toward your B.A. degree), you must complete at least 24 of the remaining 30 units in residence in at least two semesters. To count as residence, a semester must consist of at least 6 passed units. Intercampus Visitor, EAP, and UC Berkeley-Washington Program (UCDC) units are excluded.

You may use a Berkeley Summer Session to satisfy one semester of the Senior Residence requirement, provided that you successfully complete 6 units of course work in the Summer Session and that you have been enrolled previously in the college.

Modified Senior Residence Requirement

Participants in the UC Education Abroad Program (EAP), Berkeley Summer Abroad, or the UC Berkeley Washington Program (UCDC) may meet a Modified Senior Residence requirement by completing 24 (excluding EAP) of their final 60 semester units in residence. At least 12 of these 24 units must be completed after you have completed 90 units.

Upper Division Residence Requirement

You must complete in residence a minimum of 18 units of upper division courses (excluding UCEAP units), 12 of which must satisfy the requirements for your major.

Undergraduate Student Learning Initiative (USLI) Goals

The mission of the Department of South and Southeast Asian Studies is to enable students to learn about the cultures and civilizations of South and Southeast Asia. The religions, histories, and literatures of South and Southeast Asia are crucial for understanding the region's diverse cultures. Our major seeks to train students in these traditions by providing a strong grounding in the texts, languages, and cultures of South and Southeast Asian societies. In addition to a minimum of two years of language study, the major provides humanities-based interdisciplinary training in broader comparative studies of South and Southeast Asian cultures and a more focused concentration on a particular area of interest or geographical focus.

Berkeley has experts in many areas of South and Southeast Asian Studies, and our students are encouraged to take relevant courses in departments such as History, Music, Political Science, Ethnic Studies, Art History, Linguistics, Gender and Women's Studies, and English. Qualified undergraduates are also encouraged to participate in our graduate seminars.

Goals of the South & Southeast Asian Studies Major

1. Students should have a broad general acquaintance with South or Southeast Asia, including a more in-depth knowledge of the cultural history, literature, or religion of a particular culture or area of their choosing.

2. They should be able to engage critically with contemporary scholarship on South and Southeast Asia and their chosen field of specialization.
3. They should have mastered the grammar (including complex grammatical features) of at least one South and Southeast Asian language (out of Sanskrit, Hindi, Tamil, Urdu, Punjabi, Bengali, and Telugu for South Asia and Indonesian, Thai, Burmese, Filipino, Vietnamese, Khmer for Southeast). They should be able to read stories, newspapers, and the like in the modern language they specialize in.

4. They should be able to speak and move about using the language (if relevant) and write simple prose in the modern language.

5. For classical languages such as Sanskrit, students should have basic facilities in reading various genres in the original. They should be comfortable using standard resource materials such as dictionaries, traditional grammar, online resources, etc.

Paths to the Goals

Foundation Courses

• South Asian 100A and B give students an overview of ancient and modern civilizations’ history and textual traditions and basic analytical and writing skills.

• Southeast Asian 101A and 101B are broad civilizational courses that give students a grounding in Southeast Asia’s religion, history, culture, and literature.

Language Courses

• Introductory courses

• Intermediate

• Advanced

Upper Division Courses

• The 100-level courses expand skills initiated in the foundational courses.

• They give students more detailed knowledge about South and Southeast Asia’s cultures, texts, religions, and politics.

• These courses also foster research skills.

Optional Senior Thesis

How student learning will be evaluated with these goals

The department closely monitors and evaluates the attainment of our program goals throughout a student's progress through the major.

• Language skills are assessed continuously through written and oral quizzes and exams.

• Lecture courses require research, analytical papers, and/or oral presentations and exams.

• Larger lecture courses include discussion sections for group discussions.

As a capstone experience, our department offers advanced undergraduate seminars taught by ladder-rank faculty that are research—and writing-intensive. We also encourage eligible students to undertake an honors thesis project and offer a departmental Chair’s Book Prize presented at Commencement to students who completed the best honors thesis.

Major maps are experience maps that help undergraduates plan their Berkeley journey based on intended major or field of interest. Featuring student opportunities and resources from your college and department as well as across campus, each map includes curated suggestions for planning your studies, engaging outside the classroom, and pursuing your career goals in a timeline format.

SASIAN C113 Buddhist Thought in India 4 Units
Terms offered: Spring 2024, Spring 2022, Spring 2021
This course is an advanced introduction to the major teachings of Indian Buddhism and their philosophical elaborations. We will cover the core tenets attributed to the Buddha, and the later doctrinal and scholastic developments that turned Buddhism into one of the principal philosophical traditions of India. For this we will read select primary sources—in principle, extracts of the scriptures and later treatises—and academic articles and book chapters. Rather than offering a broad introductory survey of Buddhist traditions across space and time, this class is geared towards students who are already familiar with the basics of Buddhism and want to deepen their understanding of the principal teachings of Buddhism originating in India.

SASIAN 125 Screening India: Bollywood Cinema 4 Units
Terms offered: Spring 2023
This course provides an overview of one of the world's largest and most beloved film industries, the popular Hindi cinema produced in Bombay (Mumbai) and consumed around the world under the label "Bollywood." The films and readings range from the post-Independence era to the present, with introduction to key films, directors, stars, genres, formal techniques, and themes. Our readings and viewings allow us to question and discuss the ways these films reflect and influence the cultures and society from which they emerge. We shall reflect on our own practices of spectatorship and how we consume and label non-western cultures and culture industries. Together we'll develop a critical vocabulary to help us analyze and critique Hindi cinema.

SASIAN 127 Religion in Early India 4 Units
Terms offered: Summer 2008 First 6 Week Session, Summer 2004 10 Week Session, Fall 1996
This course is an introduction to the religions that have their origin on the India subcontinent--Hinduism, Buddhism, Jainism, Sikhism, and tribal religions--as well as those that originated in other regions such as Islam, Christianity, Judaism, and Zoroastrianism. Organizing this material chronologically rather than teaching it by separate religious traditions facilitates comparisons and promotes an understanding not only of the differences among these religions but also some of their commonalities in philosophy, theology, and praxis.

SASIAN 128 Religion in Modern India 4 Units
Terms offered: Fall 2018, Fall 2016, Spring 1997
This course considers the co-option, reinterpretation and dissemination of sacred texts and religious practices in various political and cultural projects in India during the colonial and post-colonial periods. Students will be introduced to religious “reform” movements, cross-cultural debates during the colonial period, and how the concept of a secular state in post-Independence India has shaped and continues to shape religious practice and public policy. Important themes include transformations in the role of women, debates around caste and “untouchability”, and religious conversions. Although the emphasis is on Hindu traditions, attention will also be given to other Indian traditions such as Islam, Christianity and Buddhism.

Whenever Pakistan comes up as a subject of sustained conversation in the US it usually is for all the wrong reasons: the worst nuclear proliferator in recent history, the refuge of Osama bin Laden, a major source of regional instability in South and Central Asia. Although Pakistan may be viewed with deep mistrust by US policy planners and the American public alike, this course seeks to remind us that it is also a country of great political, economic, religious, and social complexity. This course will situate Pakistan in its historical, political, literary, religious, economic and social contexts with the hope that students will develop nuanced and deeply grounded perspectives on a country that in fact defies easy stereotypes.

HINDI 15 Intensive Elementary Hindi 10 Units
Terms offered: Prior to 2007
A comprehensive introduction to modern standard Hindi. The Hindi (Devanagari) writing system; pronunciation; acquisition of grammar and basic vocabulary through graded exercises and readings; special emphasis on the ability to speak and understand Hindi (and spoken Urdu).
KHMER 1A Introductory Khmer 5 Units
Terms offered: Fall 2024, Fall 2023, Fall 2022
Provides a command of the basic structures of standard spoken Cambodian and tools for reading and writing elementary texts. Through use of computer-based materials, a textbook, and communicative practice, students gain a foundation in “survival” spoken Khmer. This involves memorization of question and answer exchanges in Khmer which students are likely to encounter in modern Cambodia. Topics include greetings, speaking to teachers and elders and discussing language learning, talking about family and personal history, and food. Students learn the Khmer alphabet and important sight-words and to read and write simple sentences on everyday topics. Intended for non-native speakers of Khmer with no oral or aural comprehension in the language. Students will also learn important basic behaviors and courtesies necessary for smooth interaction in Khmer society and culture.

KHMER 1B Introductory Khmer 5 Units
Terms offered: Spring 2024, Spring 2023, Spring 2022
Students complete their study of everyday standard Khmer to a “survival” level. While the memorization of vocabulary and common personal exchanges practiced in 1A will make up the majority of material studied, students will have some opportunity to learn to improvise and talk about personal work and research interests in Khmer. Topics include transportation and directions, the world of work, religion, health, and conducting daily life in Cambodia. Students learn to read simple authentic texts such as folk tales, personal letters, forms, and roadside signs. Students continue their study of culturally appropriate behavior in the context of Khmer culture, including notions of “saving face” and maintaining social harmony.

KHMER 100A Intermediate Khmer 5 Units
Terms offered: Fall 2024, Fall 2023, Fall 2022
Non-native speakers who have completed Beginning Khmer will build spoken proficiency with emphasis on everyday “storytelling” and the expression of emotions, feelings, and opinions. Students will gain experience reading progressively difficult authentic Khmer texts, including folk tales and newspaper articles. Native speakers with family exposure to Khmer will be introduced to the writing system. They will quickly “catch up” with non-native classmates who have studied the writing system before. All students will study important patterns and structures in Khmer grammar and morphology, and gain a foundation in formal spoken Khmer, express opinions and positions, form arguments, and learn to discuss a variety of topics with educated Khmer speakers. These include Khmer religion, village culture, news, and advertising.

KHMER 100B Intermediate Khmer 5 Units
Terms offered: Spring 2024, Spring 2023, Spring 2022
Students learn to read roadside signs, scholarly articles, and an entire Khmer novel. Topics include current events in Cambodia, Cambodian history and politics, and a basic overview of traditional Khmer literature. Much of this study will be accomplished by working on projects in groups with other students. One such project will involve the preparation and performance of a play based on sections of the modern Khmer novel students read in this course. All students will design and carry out an independent research project on the topic of their choice (which will account for 30% of the final grade), and present their research at the end of the second semester to an audience of their peers, entirely in Khmer.

KHMER 101A Advanced Khmer 3 Units

Terms offered: Fall 2024, Fall 2023, Fall 2022

This course continues the themes and goals of 100B. Students will focus on the same broad topics covered in Intermediate Khmer--religion, traditional culture, and the language of public information (news and advertising)--but they will learn more advanced vocabulary and grammatical structures necessary for the discussion of these topics with educated native speakers, and read more advanced texts dealing with these topics than the Intermediate students. Additional material beyond the Intermediate curriculum includes reading and analyzing historical folk tales, learning to discuss the rice-farming cycle, and acquiring the tools to discuss research and “development” work in Cambodia at a sophisticated level.

KHMER 101B Advanced Khmer 3 Units

Students will read advanced texts dealing with the topics of politics and history. They will also gain exposure to traditional verse texts, and read, discuss, and undertake group projects based on a variety of modern Khmer short stories. As in the case with Intermediate Khmer, students will also undertake substantial independent study, culminating in a final oral presentation. However, the standard by which both written and oral material will be judged will be much higher for Advanced students. Special attention will be paid to formal speaking style and advanced grammatical structures in Khmer for all students, and colloquial spoken expression for non-native speakers.
